

Urgent Announcement of Product Recall January 11, 2022

Dole was recently made aware that certain Dole- and private-label products produced by a co-manufacturing facility and containing iceberg lettuce fail to meet the facility's product quality and food safety standards in that they may be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes. Out of an abundance of caution, the co-manufacturing facility has announced a voluntary recall of these products and, therefore, Dole is providing you with this announcement so that you can check your refrigerator and discard any of the recalled salad bowls.

Products subject to the voluntary recall from this co-manufacturing facility are identified by a product lot code beginning with the letter "S" and a "Best if Used By" date between January 3 and 10, 2022. The product lot codes are located on the top label of the package.

No other lots or Dole products are affected.

The voluntary recall notification was issued by the co-manufacturing facility after harvest equipment used in the harvesting of the raw iceberg lettuce material provided by Dole and used in these finished products was tested by Dole and found to contain Listeria monocytogenes.

Retailer and consumer questions about the voluntary recalls should be directed to the Dole Consumer Response Center at 800-356-3111, Monday-Friday, 8:00am to 3:00pm Pacific Time.
